Andrew SanFilippo Resigns as Deputy Comptroller at City of Buffalo Department of Audit and Control

The Department of Audit and Control announces Andrew SanFilippo's departure as Deputy Comptroller from the City of Buffalo Comptroller's office, effective Friday, August 9, 2019. "While we will miss his wealth of knowledge and experience, we wish him much success in his well-deserved retirement," said Comptroller Barbara Miller-Williams.

With his return to the local Comptroller's office, he provided the staff with professional guidance that greatly benefited the Department of the Audit and Control overall operations. The Comptroller of the City of Buffalo would like to thank Mr. SanFilippo for his years of dedicated governmental service which involved many significant accomplishments throughout his career.

As the Comptroller, "I look forward to the next chapter of the Department of Audit and Control as we continue to protect, report and strengthen the City's finances. It is reassuring to know that Mr. SanFilippo committed to stand ready to assist our department in any way in the future," said Comptroller Miller-Williams.

As a result of Mr. SanFilippo's return to our department, the various divisions have benefited greatly from his advancement of industry best practices that will certainly prove to serve the citizens and taxpayers of the City of Buffalo in a fiscally responsible manner. "While we will miss Mr. Andrew SanFilippo's passion for governmental finance, we are fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with him," stated Comptroller Barbara Miller-Williams.
